

International Staff Week Uni Huelva

Exchanging good practises in the International Educational field

In spring 2025, Hanna Gurjanowa from the International Office and Laura Yilmaz, Coordinator for International Affairs at the Department of Business, had the opportunity to take part in the Staff Week at the long-standing Spanish partner university Universidad de Huelva.

Laura Yilmaz describes the experience as extremely enriching: "It was inspiring to come together with dedicated colleagues from all over the world to share best practices and innovative ideas on European alliances. The week offered an exciting mix of interactive sessions and the Study Abroad Fair, where we were able to showcase our university.

I particularly appreciated the personal encounters with Spanish colleagues and the opportunity to experience the campus on site - after all, many of our students regularly spend their studies abroad in Huelva."

Participation was also a valuable experience for Hanna Gurjanowa: "I took away many new perspectives and practical ideas for international work - particularly through the exchange on mobility programmes and student services. A Spanish course, which gave an insight into the Andalusian way of life, as well as the visit to the pilgrimage site of El Rocío and the Doñana National Park also made the week a special experience on a personal level."

Of course, Spanish culture was not to be missed during Staff Week: A flamenco evening and the delicious traditional paella rounded off the visit perfectly!

Both recommend taking part in a Staff Week at a partner university!
